Individual Incentives

The Bible Master program is for every child.

What if there was a way for every child to master the contents of the Bible Fact Pak even though they may never answer one question correct during a quiz meet?

There is. It's called the Bible Master program. This program uses four main levels of testing with two additional levels of difficulty for those who want to advance beyond the Bible Master.

Take some time to learn how the Bible Master program can help every child in your children's ministry.

1

INDIVIDUALIZED

Kids can be tested when they are ready. No timer or equipment is needed.

2

STANDARDIZED

Find testing guidelines online nationaljbq.org. Begin testing at any point of the season.

3

RECOGNIZED

Award achievement by presenting the appropriate pin from My Healthy Church.

Bible Master Award

Three Keys To Success

An excellent way to keep children and parents motivated at the end of the year is to jump into the Bible Master Award program. This individual incentive program is designed to start with the 10-point questions, continue to the 20-point questions, and culminate with the 30-point questions. Following are a few suggestions to get you started.

1. Craft your plan

Set reasonable goals for each child to accomplish. Remember, the great thing about this program is that the children do not need to compete on a buzzer to get to answer, but can answer the question after the examiner has read the entire question.

2. Cultivate the objective

Never give an exam for any award until you are certain that the child knows the answer to every question possible for that exam. Remember, our purpose in JBQ is to know the Word of God better, not to get awards. If you manage to get to the Bible Master Award without knowing all of the 576 answers in the Fact-Pak, you really have not accomplished true mastery. Knowing every answer will build confidence in that child to perform both in the Bible Master program and in future quizzing.

3. Celebrate success

Make each award a big deal . . . because it is! Announce it in practice when it happens. Announce it publicly, perhaps in front of the entire church, or at an awards banquet, or at least in front of the parents. These awards are as important as any awards and points scored throughout the season because they directly test knowledge of the Bible Fact-Pak.
